VALENTINA JANEK

This book is a compilation of inspirational, engaging and even funny stories from people to have received the proverbial “pink slip” and come out alive on the other side, better and brighter for it. Through these stories you will learn valuable tips and tricks from the woman dubbed as Long Islands “It Girl”.

As stated by Dr. Christopher Salute, CEO of BOLD Media

NICHOLAS SHATARAH

Nicholas Shatarah is a writer, poet from Long Island, New York. silent words is Nicholas 3rd installment, following his books Today Tomorrow & Everyday and “us”. silent words is more than poetry, it's affirmations, stories, and quotes. Nicholas hopes you can relate to his stories as one of your own.

STEPHANIE LARKIN

90% of people polled cite writing a book as a lifetime goal, yet very few people actually achieve this goal. Whether you want to write a book for personal reasons—such as a memoir or work of fiction—or for professional reasons—to promote your business or career, I work with prospective authors from developing an initial idea through writing, publication, distribution and book promotion. Whether you have a book and you are looking for a publisher, want to write a book and are looking for guidance, or need a book and are looking for a ghostwriter, Stephanie Larkin of Red Penguin Books can help make your book goals a reality.
